INFUSION

The wax is derived from a highly nutritive fruit from the Andes called Myrica and its biggest differentiation is its ability to protect. Due to the fact that it is extracted from a fruit that is resistant to extreme temperatures, the fruit naturally produces a protective wax, which truly seals-in all its internal nutrients and protects the external agents. Acting the same way the hair, it promotes ultra-effective protective layers.

Product Output: 13 applications - Product yield varies according to the length, density and type of hair.
